PUBLICITY BUREAU ISSUES A BOOKLET CONTAINING MANY STATISTICS OF OGDEN INDUSTRIES

One of the most up-to-the-minute booklets ever issued in the west has just come off the press and will be distributed by the Ogden Publicity Bureau. The booklet is entitled "Ogden." The cover says: "You can't get anywhere without coming to Ogden."

Ogden is predominant in the intermountain region as a railway center, canning center, packing house center, livestock center, grain milling center, grain handling center, fruit center, food manufacturing center, agriculture center, and second as a jobbing center and financial center.

General information in the booklet follows:
If you contemplate a change of residence or a relocation of your factory, the facts and figures in this leaflet may help you to decide on Ogden or Weber county.

Weber county is the most healthful place on earth. In a majority of the reports of the last ten years, Utah statistics have given it the lowest death rate in the state and government reports have also shown Weber county to have the lowest death rate in the nation. Ogden's death rate is below 12 per thousand, that of the whole United States is over 14 per thousand.

Of the intermountain country, Ogden is both the chief railroad center and the most extensive food manufacturing city. Its schools are unsurpassed; all the principal churches are well represented; fraternal organizations and clubs are abundant and prosperous; the city abounds in beautiful homes and the streets are extensively paved and well kept. Ogden capital controls the principal industries of this section, especially the sugar factories, the canning factories, the creameries, the milling and elevator business, the packing industry, the livestock companies, etc.

The climate is mild, not excessively warm in summer nor does the mercury usually reach zero in winter. Average daily temperature, 52; high maximum, 100; lower minimum, zero.

The magnificent scenery of Ogden canyon is unsurpassed. Twenty minutes' ride by trolley or auto lands the tourist in the very heart of the mountains.

The material strength of Ogden is derived from railroad shops, factories and commerce, supplemented by agriculture, fruit and livestock interests.

No important business failures.
Forest Service.—The Forest Service of the United States is located here, from which supplies are shipped to 250 forest headquarters throughout the United States.

If you desire more complete information concerning any industry or features, the Ogden Publicity Bureau, Weber club, Ogden, Utah, will gladly furnish it.

Facts and Figures.

Situation: Ogden is most attractively situated in the heart of a rich agricultural region; provided with ample water from Ogden and Weber rivers and mountain streams for irrigation, power and industrial purposes.

Elevation: 4300 feet.
Population: 35,000, with a substantial and steady growth.

Citizenship: Made up of energetic, thrifty people. Newcomers welcomed. Ample resources for all.

Churches: Nearly every denomination is represented.
Clubs and Orders: Commercial and social clubs have large memberships; country club with golf links; fraternal organizations very strong.

Parks: Ogden's five parks are well kept. Children's playgrounds and swimming pools are provided.

Streets: Are extensively paved and well kept. Ogden won first prize as the cleanest city of the first class in the state of Utah.

Sidewalks of cement cover the city. Automobile routes all pass through Ogden. An excellent auto camping ground is maintained.

Waterworks: No more excellent water system exists than that of Ogden which is municipally owned. An ample supply is derived from batteries of 51 artesian wells ten miles from the city and 500 feet above it. Sewers reach to the suburbs in all directions.

Power: Three large hydro-electric plants provide cheap power for manufacturing and other purposes.
Assessed Valuation: Ogden city, $33,633,124; Weber county, $52,711,425.

Tax Levy: Weber county outside city, 1.40 per $100; city and county, 2.61 per $100 valuation.

Ogden has 532 school children, 7000 of that number being enrolled in the public schools; 1643 are in church and private schools. Thirteen completed school buildings are now in operation here, costing $756,303. The night school in Americanization is one of the many features of the school system. The total annual expenses for the Ogden school system is $21,664, according to the booklet.

As a payroll center, Ogden has set a high standard, with a total of 12,729 men enrolled in the various leading industries of the city, the annual payroll is $14,363,283. Besides this vast amount, a total of $6,966,357 is expended yearly for farm products, purchased from the farmers from the sugar companies.

More than 170 factories are now in operation. There are three hydro-electric plants, generating 20,000 horse-power.

In Weber county a great diversity of crops is grown—11,000 acres of sugar beets, for which the farmers receive $14,000,000; 17,000 acres of products go to the canners, for which the growers receive $1,250,000. Weber county stockmen own 8000 head of cattle valued at $600,000, and 600,000 sheep valued at $7,200,000.

Dairy products in the county are valued at $400,000; truck gardening is valued at $1,000,000 yearly; poultry, according to the records, will bring in $400,000.

The assessed valuation of the property of the county is $52,711,425. The county has a debt of but $20,000.

Growth of Ogden City for the Last Two Decades.

During the last twenty years Ogden has had a steady growth of 1000 per year in population.

A steady advance in the value of property of more than 10 per cent per annum.

A steady growth in manufacturing industries from almost nothing to 170 plants.

A steady growth of financial strength of more than 10 per cent per annum, a recent bank statement showing deposits in Ogden amounting to $151.65 per capita, for the estimated population of 35,000.

Agricultural lands and value of farm products have also increased more than 10 per cent for each of the last twenty years.

During this time the population of the county as a whole has not increased over 150 per cent, while wealth has increased more than 450 per cent. Ogden banks and capitalists are of such strength that they have financed most of the city's industries.

Twenty years ago Ogden was an important shipping point for raw material. Today most of this material is shipped in the form of finished products, manufactured in Ogden.

A marked epoch in Ogden's growth in factories was the location of the Globe Grain & Milling company and the Sperry Flour company, which established Ogden as the grain and mill-

SENATE REJECTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The resolution of ratification of the peace treaty containing the Lodge reservations was rejected by the senate today.

In Ogden is located the grain exchange for the intermountain country, and all the stock exchanges.

Society

FAREWELL PARTY.

A missionary farewell party in honor of Elder Chester H. Nelson will be given in the Thirteenth ward hall Friday evening, November 21st. Mr. Nelson will leave shortly for a mission to the Hawaiian islands for the Mormon church and will be missed by his many friends in this city and students of the Weber academy, where he was a former student. Dancing will be indulged in after the program with the Lyric orchestra furnishing the music.

AT WEBER NORMAL COLLEGE.

A splendid musicale featured Weber's devotional exercises Tuesday morning. The first number on the program was "Nazareth," rendered by the choir under the excellent supervision of Prof. Joseph Ballantyne. Mary Fisher, a splendid musician of the city, rendered a violin selection "Reverie Vieuxtemps" followed by an encore. Mildred Ware, a very talented young lady and a pupil of Professor Ballantyne, sang "Hymns of the Witches" and "Dear Old Pal of Mine." Miss Fisher's next number was a beautiful selection, "Violin Orientale," followed by "Lullaby" from Brahms rendered by the choir. As a conclusion, Miss Ware sang "Longin' For You" with a violin obbligato by Miss Fisher with Gladys Peterson at the piano.

Doris Tribe gave a piano solo and the Boys' Glee club sang "Tinker's Song." Maud Jones gave two delightful readings.

Rock Springs, Wyo. Miners Go to Work

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Nov. 19.—The majority of coal miners in the Rock Springs area returned to work today despite open threats that they would be shot if they attempted to do so, and mine operators estimate that by tomorrow the mines will be running with nearly normal crews.

ORDERLY LEADERSHIP

WASHINGTON.—The injunction issued against coal miners will only result in restraining an orderly leadership of this strike, declared President Gompers. Secretary Morrison and Vice President Wolf of the A. F. of L., following their visit of protest to Attorney General Palmer.

After reviewing the causes that led to the strike, the A. F. of L. officials said:

"The mine owners very cleverly met the issue by appearing willing and anxious to negotiate, but only if the miners would first throw aside the only power at their command to gain a respectful hearing and fair consideration—the decision to strike whenever it was demonstrated fair dealings did not prevail."

"We are now faced with a coal strike of vast magnitude. The government now proposes to intervene because of a possible coal shortage. Apparently the government is not concerned with the manipulation of the mine owners, which has made for the present coal shortage and undue unemployment of the miners for the past eleven months."

"Instead of dealing with those responsible for this grave menace to the public welfare, it now proposes to punish those who, by force of circumstances, have been the victims of the coal barons' exploitations. The
